

HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONALS IN RESEARCH FACEBOOK COMMUNITY

#supportshareinspire

Follow the link below if you would like to join the community:

Healthcare Professionals in

Advantages of being part of the community:

A safe space to network with peers and discuss anything related to clinical academic careers and pathways. We use this site to share resources, signpost opportunities and run supportive events such as writing groups.

For more information: Healthcare Professionals in Research Facebook group reaches 500 members – a massive milestone. | Council for Allied Health Professions Research \(csp.org.uk\)

This Healthcare Professionals in Research (HPiR) peer support community is for NMAHPPS who are established in their profession, are pre-doctoral, doctoral, and post-doctoral, and are looking to embed research into a clinical role.

“The most valuable thing the site offers is for me a feeling of being connected to others doing something similar and somewhere I could ask questions”

- Deane and Clunie (2021)

Q: Who are the existing group members?

A: We are an international group of clinical academics from a wide range of disciplines, including nursing, midwifery, allied health, healthcare science, pharmacy, and psychology. We are all early to mid-stage researchers with a wealth of pre-doctoral, doctoral and post-doctoral experience to share.

Q: What is the aim of the group?

A: Our aim in this community is to share experiences, support each other, and inspire those involved in clinical research, during what can sometimes be an isolating journey.

Reference:

Deane, J.A. and Clunie, G., 2021. Healthcare professionals in research (HPiR) Facebook community: a survey of UK doctoral and postdoctoral healthcare professionals outside of medicine. BMC medical education, 21(1), pp.1-9.

Additional resources developed by HPiR community admin team:

Navigating Doctoral Studies Series for CAPHR

<https://cahpr.csp.org.uk/content/cahpr-top-tips-navigating-doctoral-studies-series>